Charles F. Brush High School

4875 Glenlyn Road

Lyndhurst, Ohio 44124

Volume XLIII

During the 1920's Lyndhurst was without a high school, so its teenagers attended South Euclid High School at the corner of Mayfield and Green Roads. The building had insufficient classroom space and lacked an auditorium, a gymnasium, and modern laboratory equipment. There was no athletic field. The needs of the two villages led to the combination of school systems and the construction of Charles F. Brush High School. When it opened in January of 1927, the $468,151 building contained only sixteen classrooms, an auditorium, a library, a gymnasium, and a cafeteria. Today Brush encompasses the original structure plus five major additions. Provisions for a sixth addition, a swimming pool, have been defeated by the voters time and time again.

People, not bricks, windows, lockers, or desks, create the atmosphere at Brush. Since the first year, when 412 students attended grades seven through twelve, people have always helped each other. This has been especially true in times of stress, such as the Depression and World War II. Frequent air raid drills served as reminders of friends and relatives involved in the fighting abroad, and the possibility that the war could spread to the homefront. Enjoyment and release from these pressures were found in big-band dances and movies.

As the war ended and the '50's began, teenagers followed the fads of poodle skirts, pony tails, leather jackets, and DA's. The '60's were more serious. They were a time of social awareness which created both unrest and commitment among students. The space program, the Viet Nam War, racial equality, and the drug and hippie cults were of major concern.

Although the '70's have brought the end of the "baby boom" and a subsequent decrease in enrollment, Brush High School still boasts more than one hundred faculty members and two thousand students. Vocational courses and work-study programs have been added to the traditional college preparatory curriculum to meet the changing needs of students. The farm communities of fifty years ago have developed into modern suburbs and Brush High School has grown with them.

ENJOYMENT

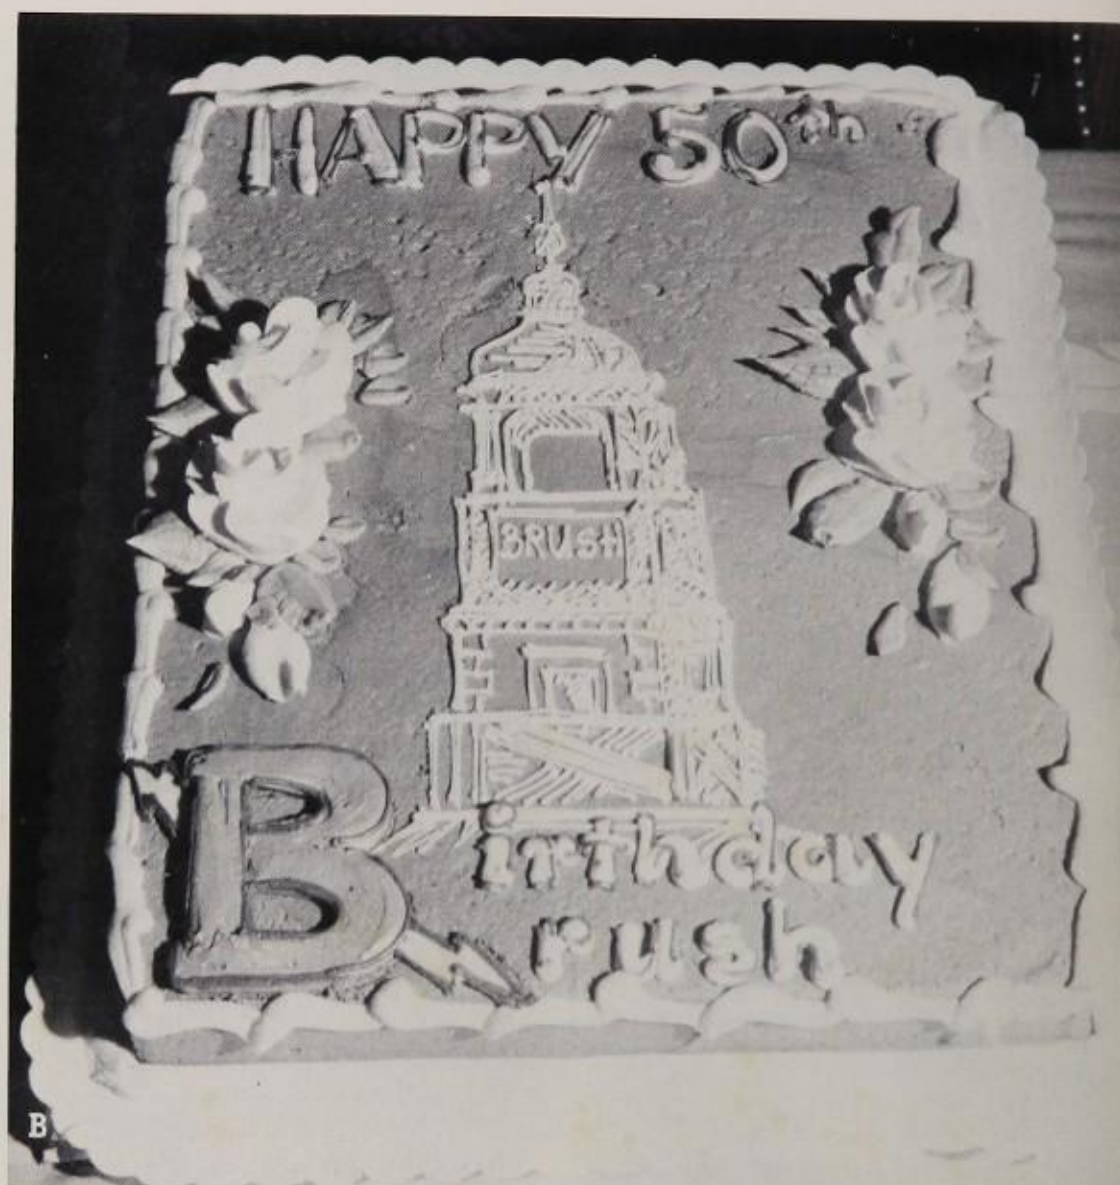

(A) Even though everyone else has left, Laura Hanson remains in the band room to perfect a piece of music on the xylophone. (B) Marching band practices both indoors and outdoors before performing at assemblies and half-time shows. (C) Julie Brenis diligently completes an assignment while the rest of the class chats. (D) The Junior Varsity Football Team troops into the locker room after a muddy practice in the rain. (E) Richard Gibson, Ken Taylor, Scott Szuter, and Ron Clise collect beer cans to recycle. (F) The library provides an excellent place to do some serious studying, research, or reading. (G) Heather Warm, Scott Lewis, Rick Seeley, and Mrs. Hardy are part of the Spanish V class that meets nights because they are unable to meet during a regular school day.

COMMITMENT

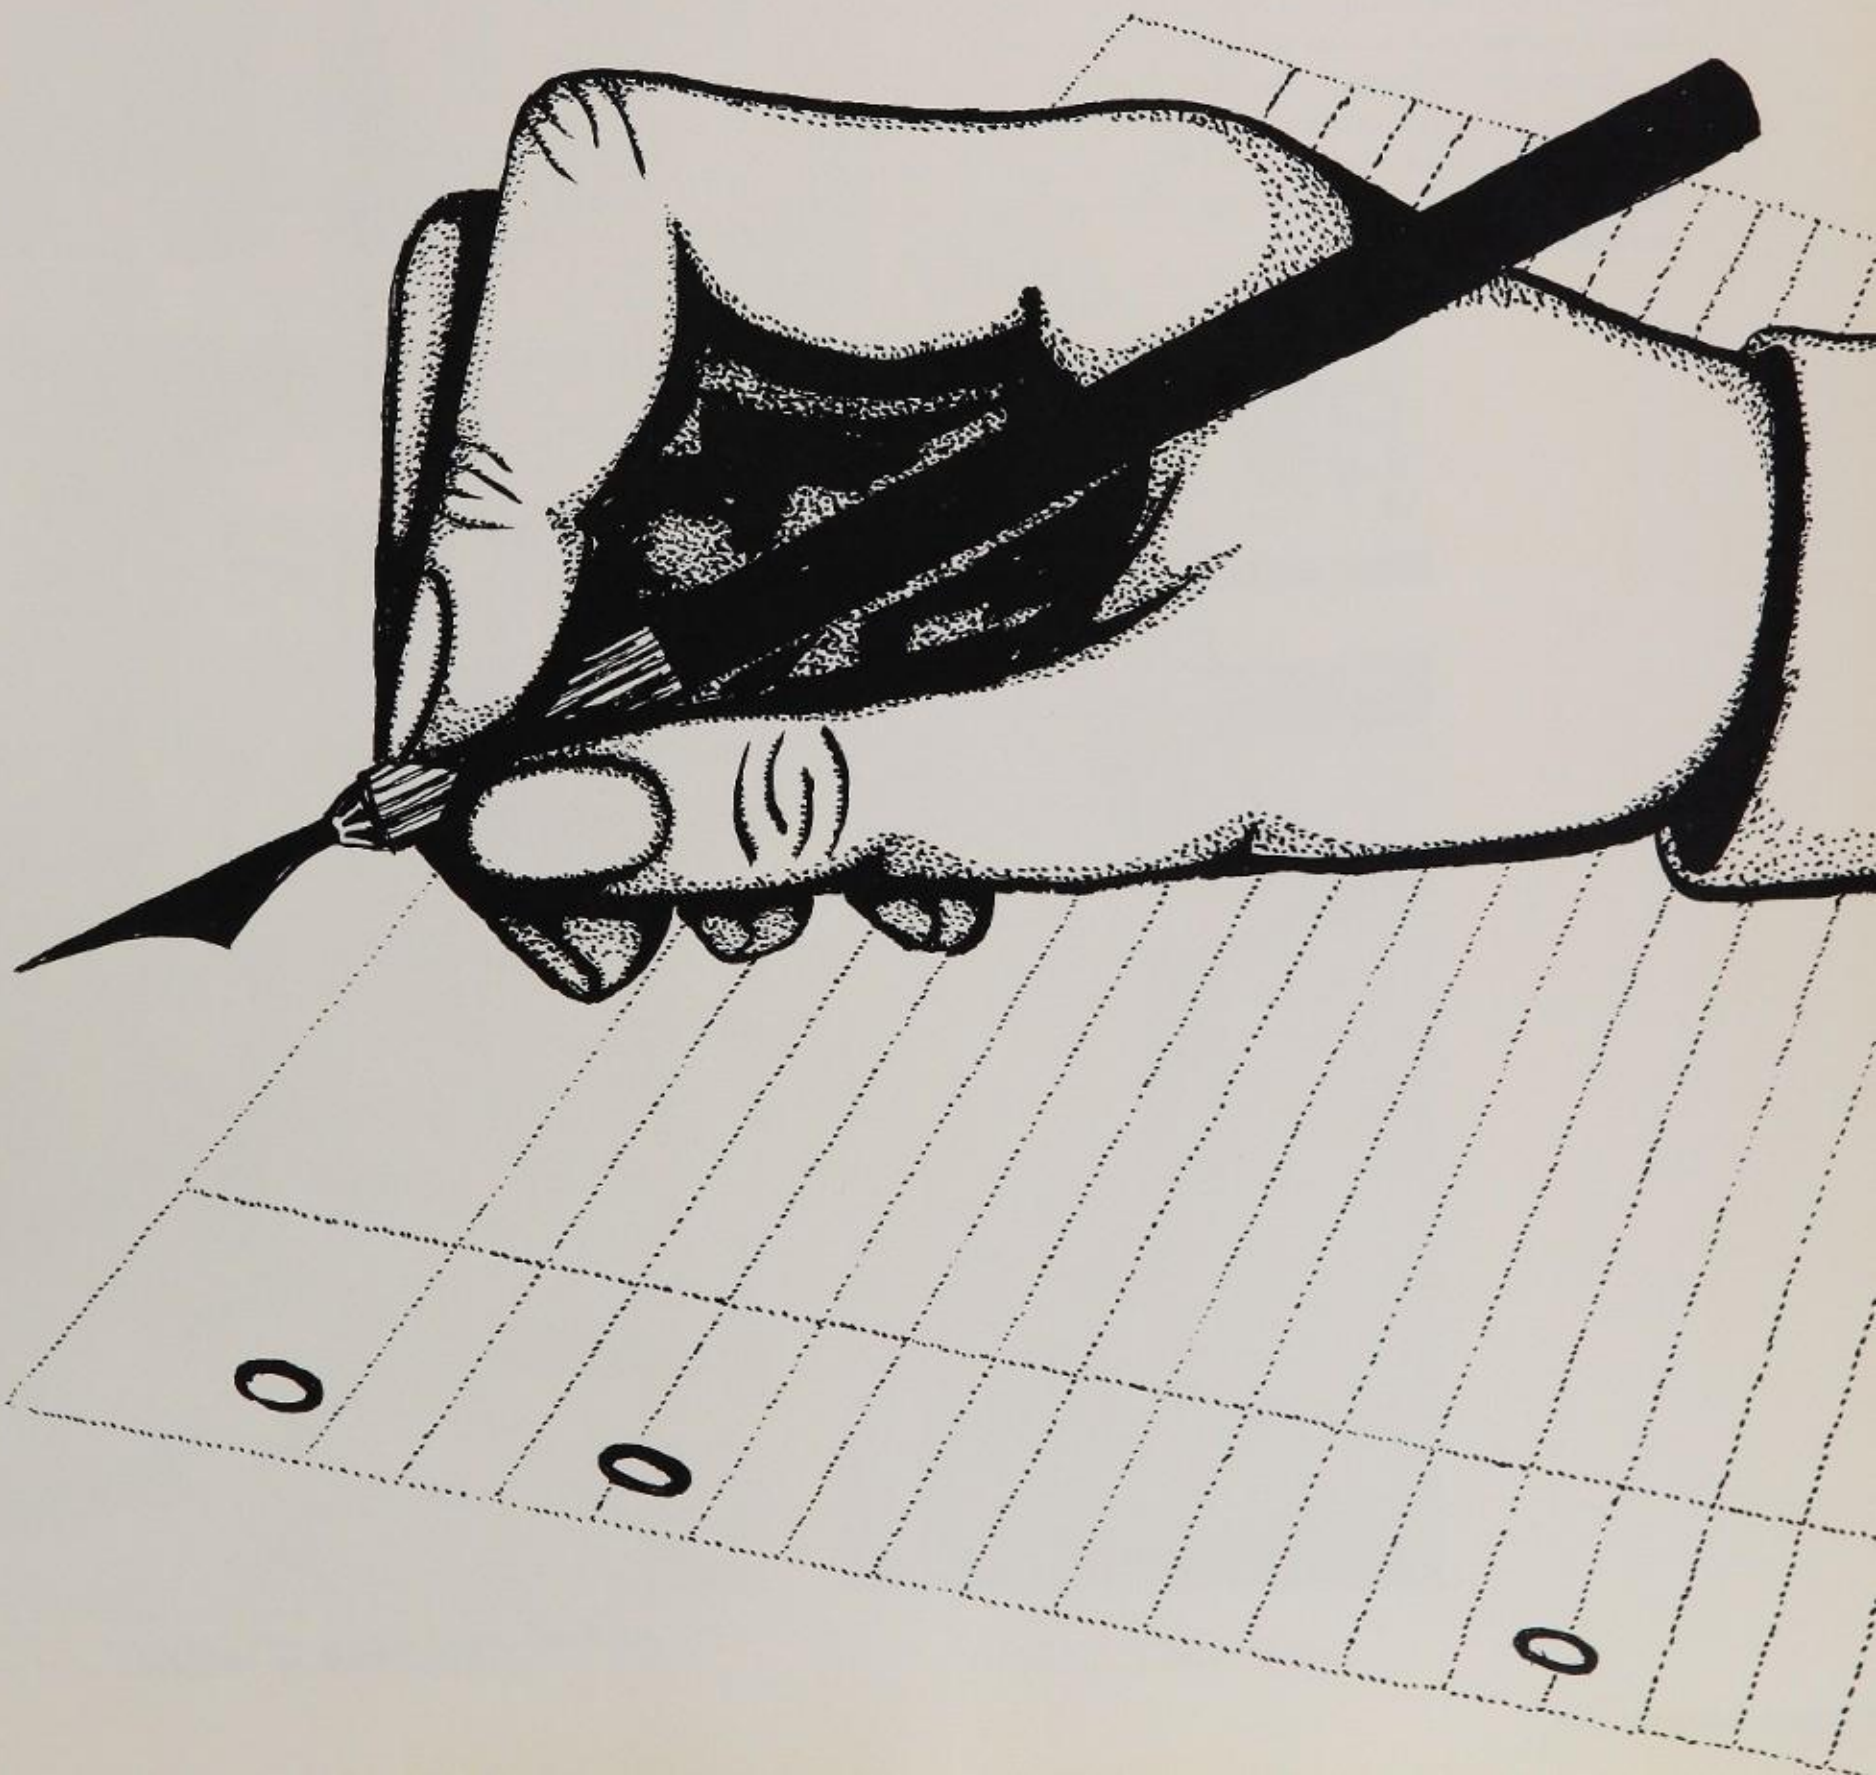

(A) Linda King and Rachelle Ricci select a snack from a machine in the Commons area. (B) In the spring of 1976, Brush's PTSA held an early 50th birthday party downtown at Stouffer's Restaurant. (C) The hike of phone rates to twenty cents does not prevent Bob Miltner from making a phone call. (D) Rick Seeley, John Kennedy, Carrie Gunn, Connie Gatto, and Kirk Garvey exemplify the relaxed atmosphere and style of dress common at Brush. (E) Karen Elbon, Ken Taylor, Ron Clise, Scott Szuter, Keith Szuter, Debbie Roberts, and Leanne Werneke display a snake found during an environmental science field trip. (F) Mr. Young, alias Super Arc, makes his first appearance of the year at a pep assembly. (G) Brenda Adams takes a lunch break from her cosmetology class. Above the lockers is a mural, one of the Senior Projects of 1976.

ACADEMICS

Administration And School Board Expand Opportunities For Students

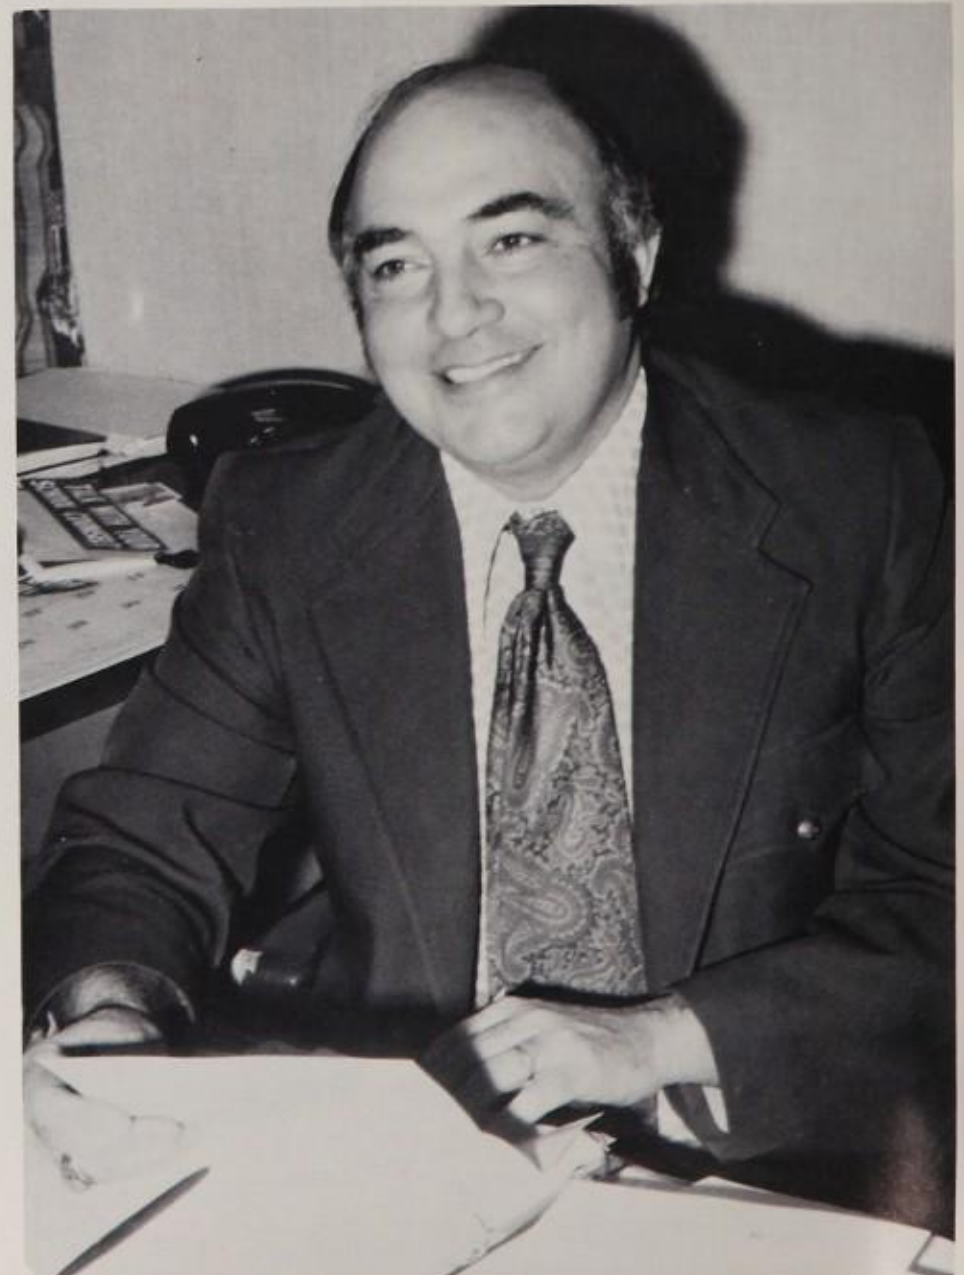

Trying to meet the changing needs of Brush students was a major challenge for the administration. In order to help each student fulfill his or her ambitions, the administration provided the school with versatile courses that appealed to as many students as possible, while maintaining high academic standards.

Principal Joseph Leonetti expressed his belief in parent and community involvement in addition to student involvement in the total school program.

Associate Principal Donald McGinley worked to maintain a solid curriculum for all students. As a graduate of Brush, he wanted the students to receive the same quality education he received when he was a student.

Mr. Donald T. McGinley

Mr. Joseph C. Leonetti

Dr. Bruce Holderbaum

The members of the South Euclid-Lyndhurst Board of Education were elected to direct the school system and make policies best suited to the needs of the school and community. Some of their responsibilities included selecting a superintendent, approving the school budget, and placing school bond issues on the ballot.

CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION — Seated: Mr. Robert Baumgartner, Director of Business Affairs; Dr. Bruce Holderbaum, Superintendent; Mr. Franklin Mackert, Clerk-Treasurer. Standing: Mr. William Kingzett, Coordinator of Athletics; Mr. Willard Blum, Director of School-Community Relations; Dr. Louis Helfenbein, Director of Pupil Services; Mr. William Burcham, Assistant to the Superintendent; Mr. J. Larry Stevenson, Director of Personnel; Mr. Fred Reigler, Jr., Director of Curriculum; Mr. Ervin Davies, Coordinator of Instructional Media.

Counselors Open Doors To Opportunities

The counselors' school year began the previous spring with junior and senior self-scheduling. Over the summer, the counselors and administrators checked the schedules for possible errors and tried to correct them before school began. During the first week of classes, counselors' offices were filled with students who wished to change their schedules. After the hectic first month, the counselors began setting up conferences with each student, helping seniors with college and scholarship applications, informing students of various testing programs, and discussing future plans and job opportunities with the students. Before the seniors graduated, the cycle started again.

The division principals fulfilled many responsibilities to the school and its students. Some of their duties included attendance, discipline, and helping students with some of their problems. Mr. William Thombs, the division principal in charge of Division I (A-Go), worked with counselors, Mrs. Rose Gregorich and Miss Lora Ruth Hurst. In Division II (Gr-O), Mr. David Nichting was aided by Mrs. Gloria Roma and Mr. Daniel Morocco. Mr. Albert Zanetti worked with Mr. Thomas Couhig and Mrs. Roselyn Stevens on Division III (P-Z). Mr. Alex Rozzo was in charge of counseling students in vocational education. Mrs. Charmion Stein was the school social worker.

Students Explore Mysteries Of Science

The science courses at Brush High incorporated more than just reading textbooks and taking notes. Growing yeast cultures, analyzing water from Euclid Creek, and visiting hospitals helped students learn. Students were encouraged to question experimental data, to research theories, and to draw conclusions of their own. Biology, chemistry, physics, physiology, environmental science and physical science prepared students for a science-oriented world.

(A) During a biology class, Mr. Ken Feiock adjusts the microscope for Adolfo Fernandez. (B) "Hey Mrs. Mack! Is this the way you boil water?" ask Tom Davis and Tim Gordon. (C) The ecology collage on the door of the environmental science class depicts the nature of the course. (D) Craig Taylor, Scott Wilk, and Kim Skerritt risk getting their feet wet while on an environmental science field trip. (E) Dan Fetsko and Brenda Nystrom get acquainted with the parts of a microscope. (F) Karen Motuza, Gail Whitelaw, Larry Scott, and Mike Sajovec prepare for a physiology lab. (G) For Joy Witte, Mike Bower, Mike Hirschberg, and David Rider, the last step in an experiment is the write-up.

Travel With Words

Studying a foreign language involves more than just learning how to speak it. Reading novels, studying the history of the country, and discussing the art, music, and customs of the people are also important factors in learning how to speak a language fluently.

The Foreign Language Department offered students a choice among French, Spanish, and German. The courses were divided into classes varying from Level I to Level V. The language labs and the media center provided further help by giving students pronunciation and intonation guides, and an opportunity to listen to native dialects.

Mathematics Can Never Be Fully Learned

Math is not only necessary for graduation but also for getting along in a technological world. The math courses at Brush included General Math, Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II and III, Trigonometry and Analytical Geometry, and Calculus. Factoring quadratic equations and polynomials, doing proofs, and computing arc tangents were a few of the basic skills learned in math courses. The computer was used in discovering Armstrong numbers and plotting functions.

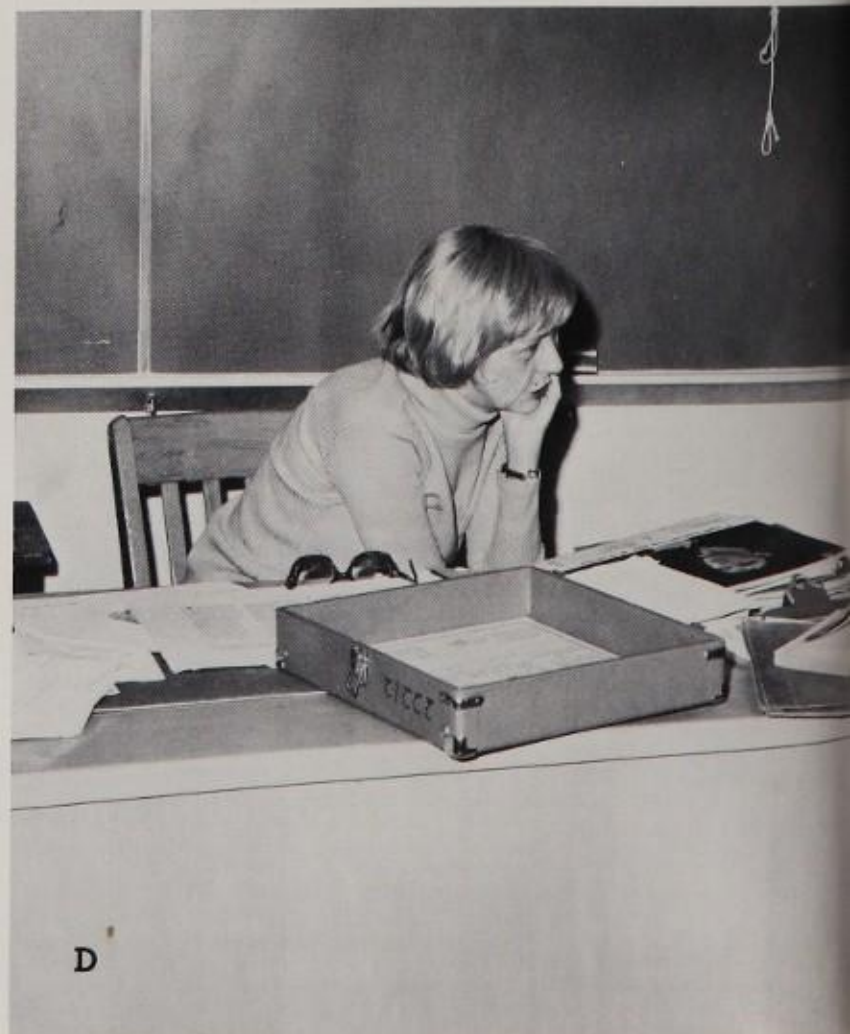

(A) Skip Yarus and Steve Blau work with the computer. (B) Ronna Walter works out a function problem on the blackboard for Miss Diane Obringer. (C) Geometry students study the blackboard during class time. (D) Jeanne Kelly, Bob Karp, and Jody Miller respond to a question asked by the teacher.

"Reading Maketh A Full Man. . ."

Through English classes students learned to develop a greater understanding of the English language and its literature. The Language Arts Department offered students a wide variety of courses to choose from, allowing each individual to pursue his or her own interests. Creative Writing, Advanced Composition and Fundamentals of Research, and Journalism were designed to help students expand their writing abilities. Students interested in studying literature could choose from courses such as British Literature and American Literary Heritage. An Advanced Placement Language program allowed students to work towards college credits while still in high school.

The ability to translate thoughts and ideas into words, both written and spoken, is a necessary skill for all students, regardless of what they plan to do after high school.

(A) Sophomores Mike Millstein and Pam Hickson perform a scene from A Tale of Two Cities. (B) Mr. Ebersole checks homework for Algird Dauper, Randy Eagles, Stuart Falb, Stuart Kahn, Doug Grove, and Shelly Giterman before class begins. (C) British Literature is one of the more popular English courses for college-bound seniors. (D) Mrs. Herron gives Dave Green extra insight into The Canterbury Tales. (E) Each year, students such as Bart Kilkenny perform scenes from The Canterbury Tales for Mr. Hill's British Literature class. (F) During a speech class, neither the speaker, Dave Telepak, nor his audience, Sue Ziherl, Dave Powers, Lisa Kish, and Ken Corrado, pay attention to their work when a Hi-Lite photographer walks in. (G) Sheryl Berkey, Laurie Berkel, Jane Eilerson, Shari Glazer, Linda Hazen, and Marcy Gross work on an in-class assignment.

"There Is A History In All Men's Lives." -- Shakespeare

The History Department expanded its curriculum with the institution of the Advanced Placement program, numerous field trips, guest speakers, and the Washington "Close-up" program. Students were given opportunities to learn more about their country's past, the world, and themselves.

(A) Mr. Don McDonnell explains some notes to Linda Betti and Michelle Lamanna. (B) Ms. Barbara Kresge leads a discussion in Human Relations with Phil Galioto, Mitch Puin, and Donna Scharler. (C) Mr. Hugo Zappa prepares for his next lesson. (D) Lori Arnold, Judy Meyer, Jim Christy, Timothy Patrick, and Nancy Collings are among the students in a Sociology class. (E) Rick Grimaldi, Linda Gibson, Sally Polk, Norm Troyanovich, and Lisa Mitchell listen to a lecture. (F) Barb Johnson, Margie DiFranco, Dave Link, Steve Prengler, Rhonda Glazer, and Debbie Tweed discuss relevant issues. (G) In a comfortable position, Mr. Joe Shiniger lectures Rick Kain and Maria Mihu.

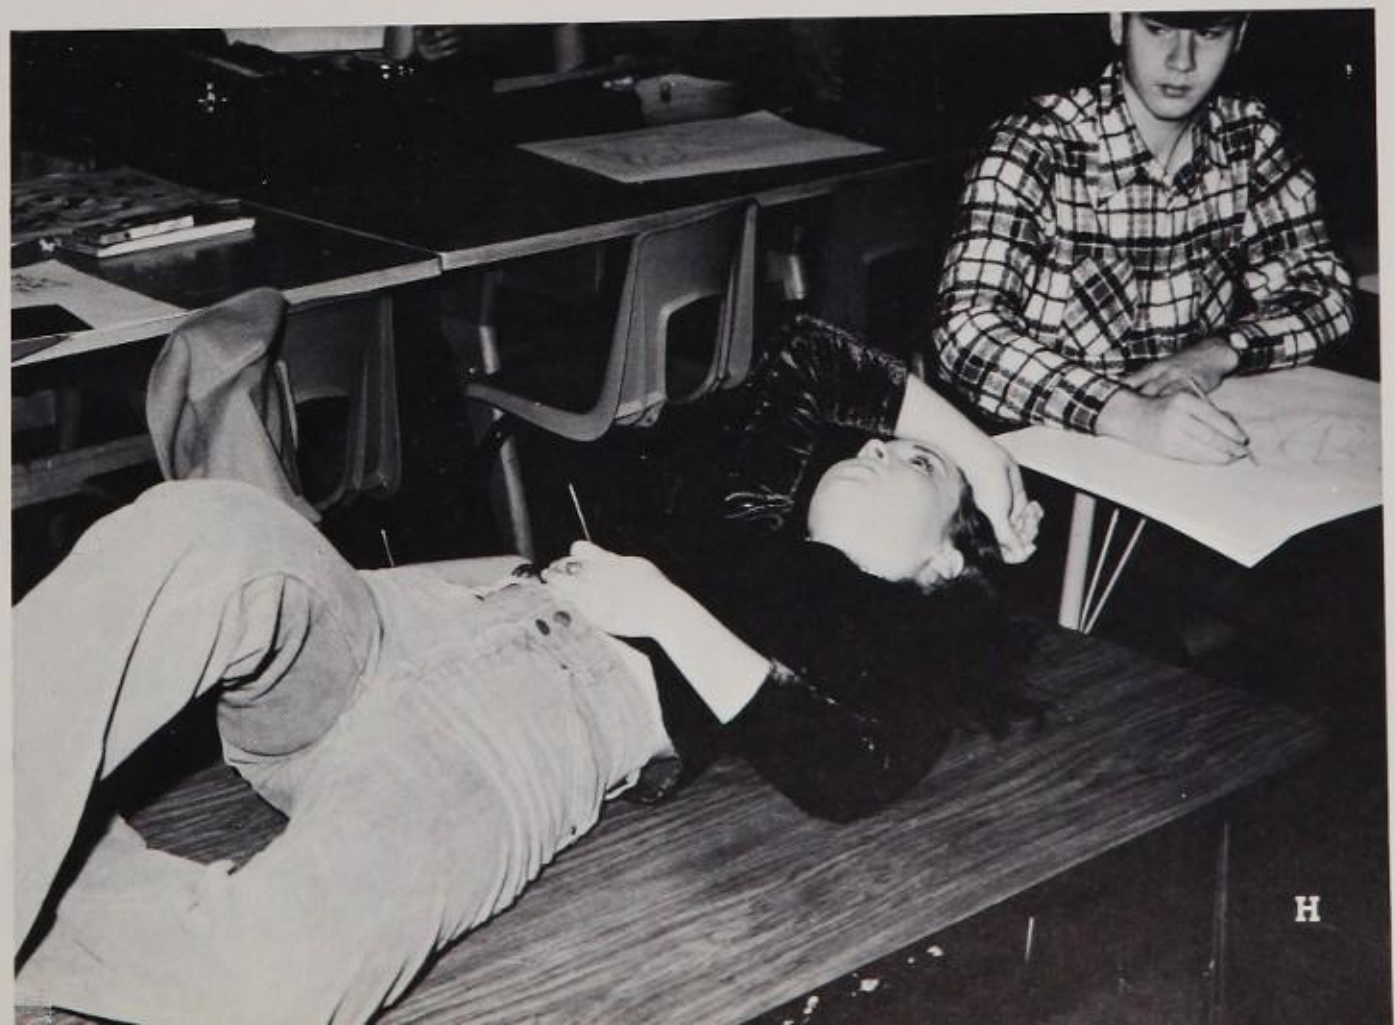

Artists Enjoy Freedom Of Expression

Art is an expression of feelings and creative talents. The art department offered students opportunities to use their imaginations, to translate abstract ideas into creative objects. Art teachers Mr. Fred Biehle, Miss Candy Clemson, and Mr. John Florentine helped the students master the techniques of molding clay, batik-ing, drawing, and painting.

(A) Martha Gunn puts the finishing touches on her sculpture. (B) Terry Stenger, Beth Rosen, and Beth Christ apply hot wax to their material before dipping it in dye. (C) During a Drawing and Painting class, Frank DiVito, Ken Oravec, John Sullivan, and (D) Rick Betori, Tom Tashjian, and Monica Doyle experiment with watercolors. (E) "Gotcha!" cries Miss Candy Clemson as she captures Pam Hegedus. (F) Carolyn Ivanye stands beside her prize-winning window painting. (G) Joan Steel and Jim Williams glance through an art book. (H) Posing on a table top for Sheldon Gleisser is Laura Rossilli.

Home Economics Presents Basic Skills For Future Needs

Cooking and sewing were only part of what Home Economics students learned. The Home Economics Department, consisting of Mrs. Margaret Bradac, Mrs. Daisy Smith, and Mrs. Gerry Zieske, instructed students in such courses as Advanced Foods, Advanced Clothing, Homemaking, Housing, Child Care, and Family Relations. The classes were designed to aid students in developing their skills as homemakers as well as to prepare them for college and future careers.

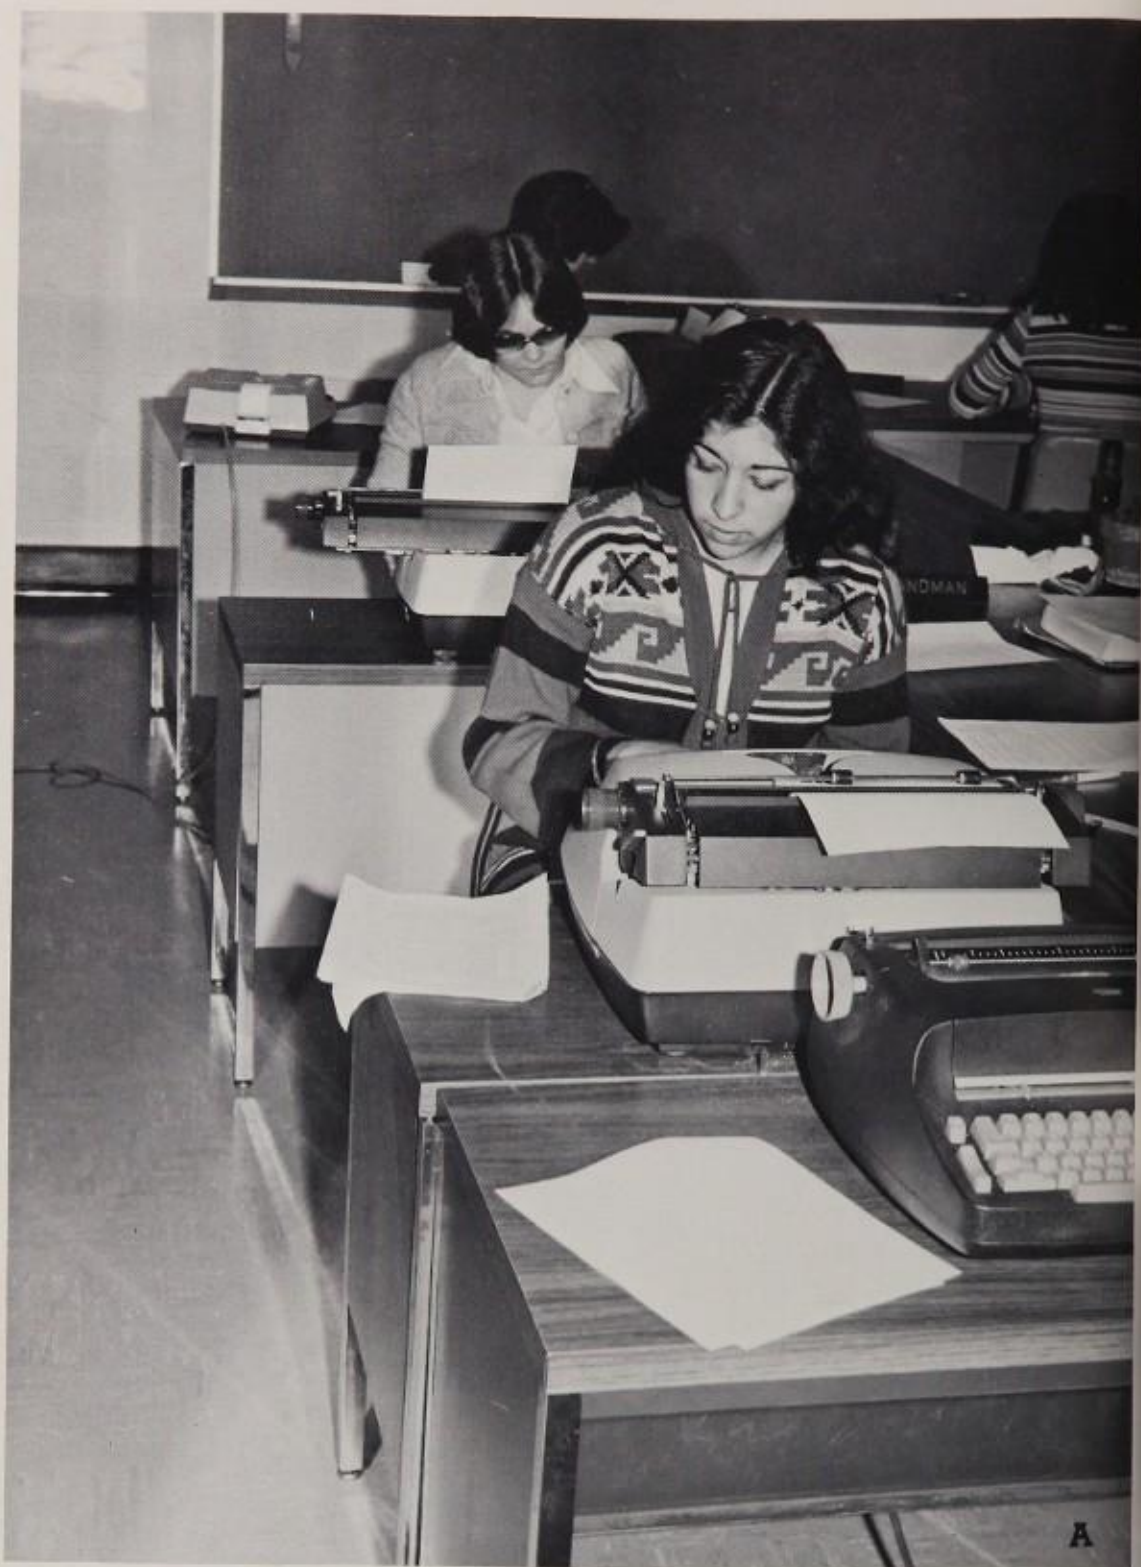

(A) Lori Kovach models her matching skirt and jacket which she made in a Home Economics class. (B) Mrs. Daisy Smith helps Karen Stefanik alter her jacket. (C) Donna Onda watches Maureen Rice paint in a coloring book. (D) "Fran Casarona, what do you mean my crust isn't light and flaky?" demands June Dieterich. (E) Carrie Gunn concentrates on her sewing project. (F) Linda Ringel and Paula Purpera check over their tests. (G) Mrs. Gerry Zieske prepares to show a filmstrip while Sue Ward looks on.

Business Education: Practicality And Diversity

Students involved in Business Education found the diversity in course selections beneficial to their individual needs. Bookkeeping, Business Law, Personal Finance, and Office Practice were some of the classes from which they could choose. Whether a student was learning the fundamentals of typing or preparing for a career in Data Processing, he or she profited from the knowledge gained through special office work and practical training with office equipment.

Creators And Calculators In Industrial Arts

The skills learned in Industrial Arts were applied to everyday situations. Whether repairing a lamp or building a kayak, students were instructed in such areas as Mechanical Drawing, Auto Mechanics, Wood Shop, Architectural Drawing, Metal Shop, Graphic Arts, Engineering Drawing, and Electricity-Electronics. Understanding the practical operations of tools and machine shop equipment would become useful in later life.

F

Voc. Ed.: Learning For Future Employment

The Vocational Education Program provided the students at Brush High an alternative to the traditional academic program. Cosmetology students learned the latest styles and applied the techniques on customers while Auto Mechanics students repaired their cars. Electricity-Electronics, Clerk-Typist, and Accounting-Computing were also offered at Brush. If a student were interested in Child Care or Commercial Art, he participated in an exchange program with Euclid High School.

Work Program: Learn While You Earn

Distributive Education (DE), Occupational Work Adjustment (OWA), Occupational Work Education (OWE), Co-operative Office Education (COE), and Diversified Co-operative Training (DCT) offered many students a unique chance to combine a job and school. The students worked in industry, business, and the health fields.

(A) Colleen Zambricky types a letter for her boss.
(B) Tim Arendt takes inventory at an auto parts store.
(C) Mary Strano reads a story to one of the children at a nursery school.

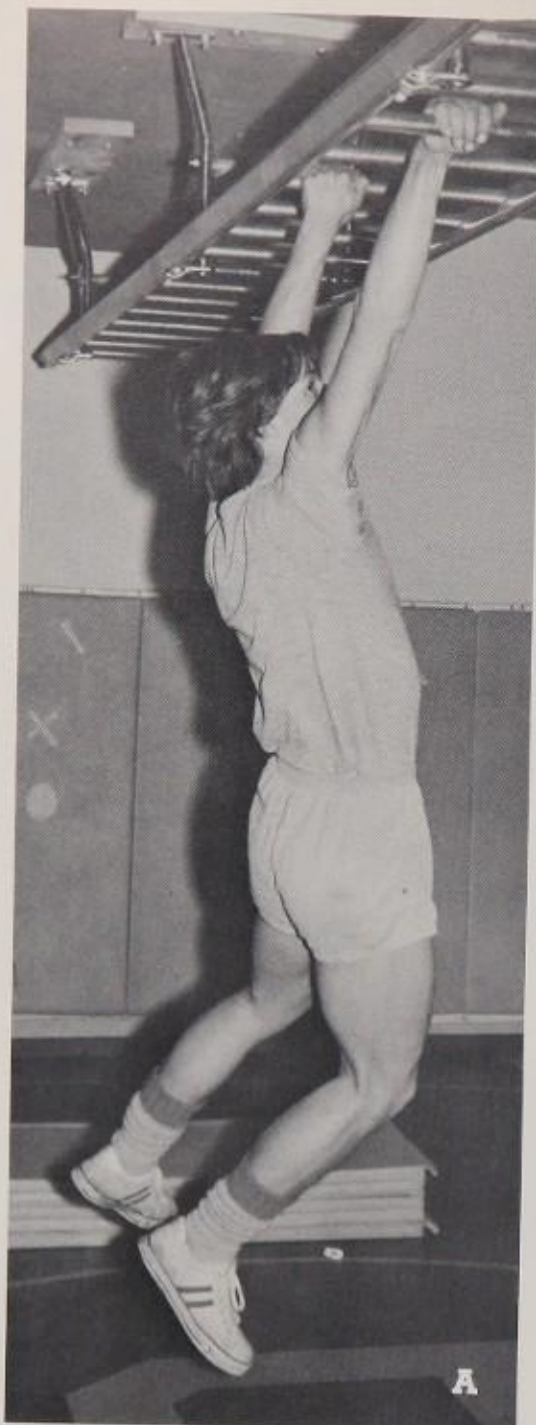

Phys. Ed.: Something For Everyone

The boys' physical education classes enjoyed a wide variety of courses ranging from volleyball to wrestling.

The girls' program was arranged to give the girls the opportunity to choose instruction and training in specialized sports. Among the elective classes were self-defense, archery, tennis, modern dance, and golf.

At the Sophomore level, co-educational health classes covered topics such as exercise, nutrition, and mental health.

(A) Gerard Roberts climbs hand over hand on a suspended ladder. (B) Showing a perfect archery stance, Ann Sabatino prepares to shoot. (C) Al Cortez uses the leg press in the weight room. (D) Mr. Jay Alexander answers the question, "What is a physically educated person?"

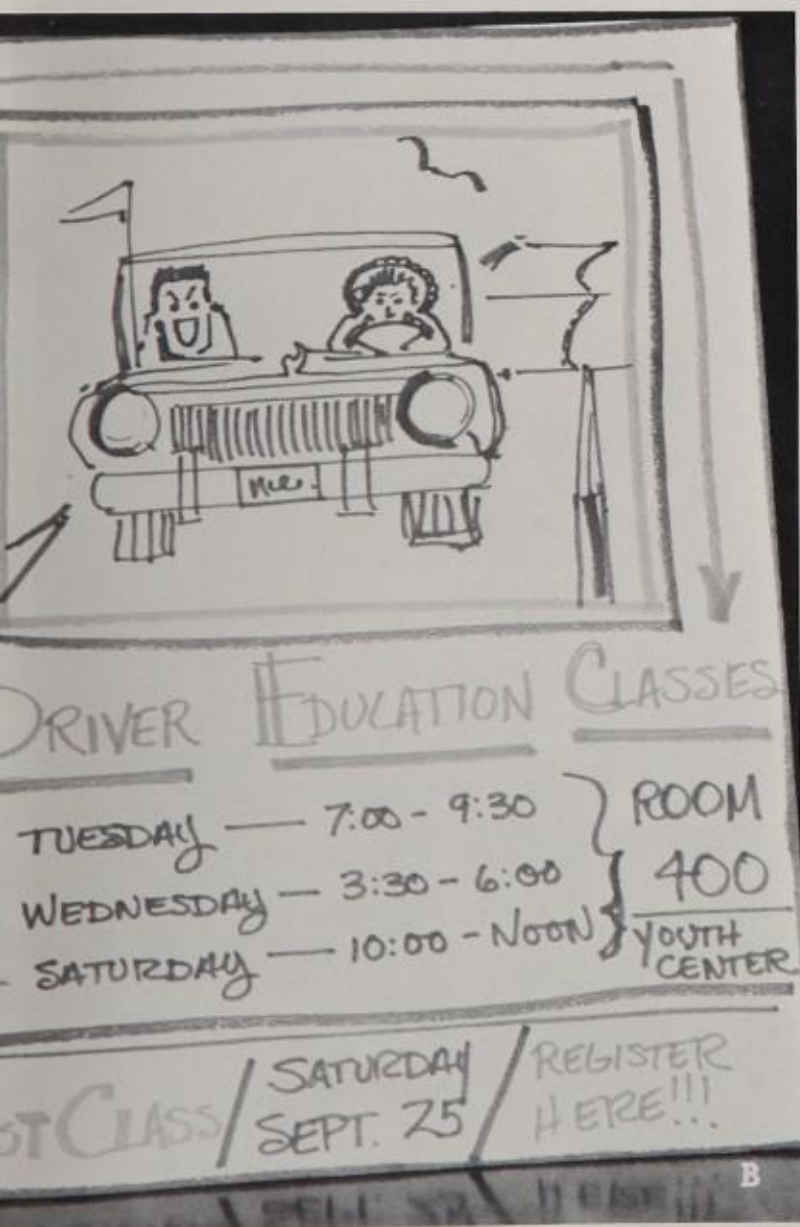

Future Drivers Learn Safety

The Driver's Education program at Brush High, taught by Mr. John Hall from the Heights Driving School, instructed students in driving skills. After a student received his temporary license, the in-car training began. When a student finished thirty-six hours in class and eighteen hours in the car, he was eligible to take the test for his permanent license.

(A) Mr. John Hall prepares for another day. (B) Pedestrians beware! (C) A new driver pulls out of the parking lot. (D) Driver's Education students watch a film strip.

Homecoming

Many girls have had aspirations of becoming Homecoming Queen. This dream came true for Judy Meyer at the Queen's Assembly on October 14, 1976. The queen and her attendants, Jill Smolka, Sue Murray, Laura Mancine, and Pam Hegedus, were escorted by Dan Sheehan, Rick Grimaldi, Mark Conway, Jeff Halkerston, and Tim Boylan, respectively. The girls, chosen from the Top 26, walked down the aisle to the music of the Orchestra, and the Chamber Choir serenaded them with "Cherish" and "I Only Have Eyes For You". The court reigned over the football game on Friday night, and the culmination of their weekend of golden memories was the dance Saturday night.

SPORTS

The 1976 Boy's Track Team finished with a disappointing 2-5 record, but Coaches Glenn Lake and John Gasperak had reason to feel a sense of accomplishment. Although defeated five times, the Brush squad performed admirably in all meets. Victories were achieved over Shaker and arch-rival Mayfield, and the team finished a respectable sixth at the Euclid Relays and tenth at the Sectional Meet. The most consistent performer was long-distance runner Lyle Braund, who set school records in the mile run and the two-mile run. Others who set school records included Jeff Halkerston, J. T. Caito, Bob Murray, and Rich Thompson in the mile relay, and Eric Brunton, Ulli Weinrich, Rob Swain, and Jeff Halkerston in the two-mile relay.

The 1976 Varsity Girls' Track Team, coached by Mrs. Elaine DiCicco, ran up a record of four wins and four losses. Many players helped to build the team. Co-Captain Laura Lowy, voted as Most Valuable Player, broke the school record in the long jump with 16' 7³/₄". This qualified Laura for the District meet. Co-Captain Mia Stoetzer broke the school record she set in 1975 with a high jump of 4'11", and set another record of 64.04 seconds in the 440 yard dash.

Cindy DiFranco, Most Improved Player, helped the 440 relay team of DiFranco, Laura Taylor, Peggy Williams, and Laura Lowy set a new record of 52.7 seconds.

In her first year of track competition, Chris Uveges set a record of 14.3 seconds in the 80 yard hurdles.

Many track records were broken, and there were nineteen Varsity Letter Award winners on this impressive girls' team.

Arcs Are A Big Hit

The 1976 Varsity Baseball Team, coached by Mr. Jim Humpal, finished the season with a 20-12 record in the Greater Cleveland Conference. The team was led by Steve Pasquale, Dan Sheehan, winner of the Defensive Infield Award, and Jim Laughlin, winner of the Defensive Outfield Award. Sheehan also led the team in pitching. Jack Kerrigan was voted the Most Improved Player, and Laughlin, the Most Valuable Player.

Setting a new Brush record of 205 runs scored in a season, the Junior Varsity led by Coach Frank Peters, placed second in the Greater Cleveland Conference with a 17-6 record. Scott McCann and Mark Morehart led the team offensively with the aid of the perfect pitching records of Jim Goldston, Mike Sajovec, and Roy Streetz. McCann was voted the Most Valuable Player, and Morehart, the Most Improved Player.

Volley To Even Record

With the encouragement of Coach Richard Hagen, the 1976 Spring Varsity Tennis Team achieved an even 9-9 record. The Arcs won five of their last six matches. Senior Seth Honeyman played consistent tennis, earning the Most Valuable Player Award. Captain Rich Henry and Brian Greenberg, the Most Improved Player, also turned in outstanding performances. Kevin Stang and Doug Silver combined to become an exceptional doubles team. Chris Koren and Mike Singerman won second place in the Doubles Championship at Willoughby South. The Junior Varsity, coached by Mr. Jack Soble, netted a respectable 8-6 record.

Improvement was the key word for the 1976 Girls Tennis teams, coached by Mrs. Rosemary Pasek. Although both teams suffered losing seasons, great promise was shown for the future. Outstanding performances for the fall team were turned in by Donna Matteucci, and the doubles team of Lori Arnold and Barb Parsons (the Most Valuable Player and Most Improved Player, respectively), who advanced to the Sectional Finals. Debbie Turney was voted the Most Valuable Player on the Spring Team, and Lori Arnold was the Most Improved.

The 1976 Varsity Football Team compiled a 2-8 record under new Head Coach Frank Gibson. Although the record was disappointing, the gridders displayed great dedication and determination throughout the season. The team was competitive in all its games, and during one three-game stretch it scored 77 points, an average of over 25 points per game.

The Brush offense proved itself very productive, compiling 2208 total yards to lead the Greater Cleveland Conference. Accumulating more than half of this total was All-League Quarterback Dan Sheehan, who rushed and passed for 1146 yards. His finest game of the season came against powerful Euclid, when he completed twenty passes for 264 yards, a school record. Sheehan was the recipient of the Jack D. Cormier Award, symbolic of academic and athletic excellence.

Junior Split End Brett Milkie caught thirty passes to lead the league in pass receptions. He scored six touchdowns and, in one game, caught eleven passes to set a school record. Other outstanding performances were given by Tailback Ken Kristan, Linemen Mike Hoppe and Greg Habzda, and Kicker Rich Schario, who booted two 40-yard field goals, one which gave the Arcs a 3-0 shutout of Kent Roosevelt. Brush's other victory was a most rewarding 24-8 shellacking of arch-rival Mayfield.

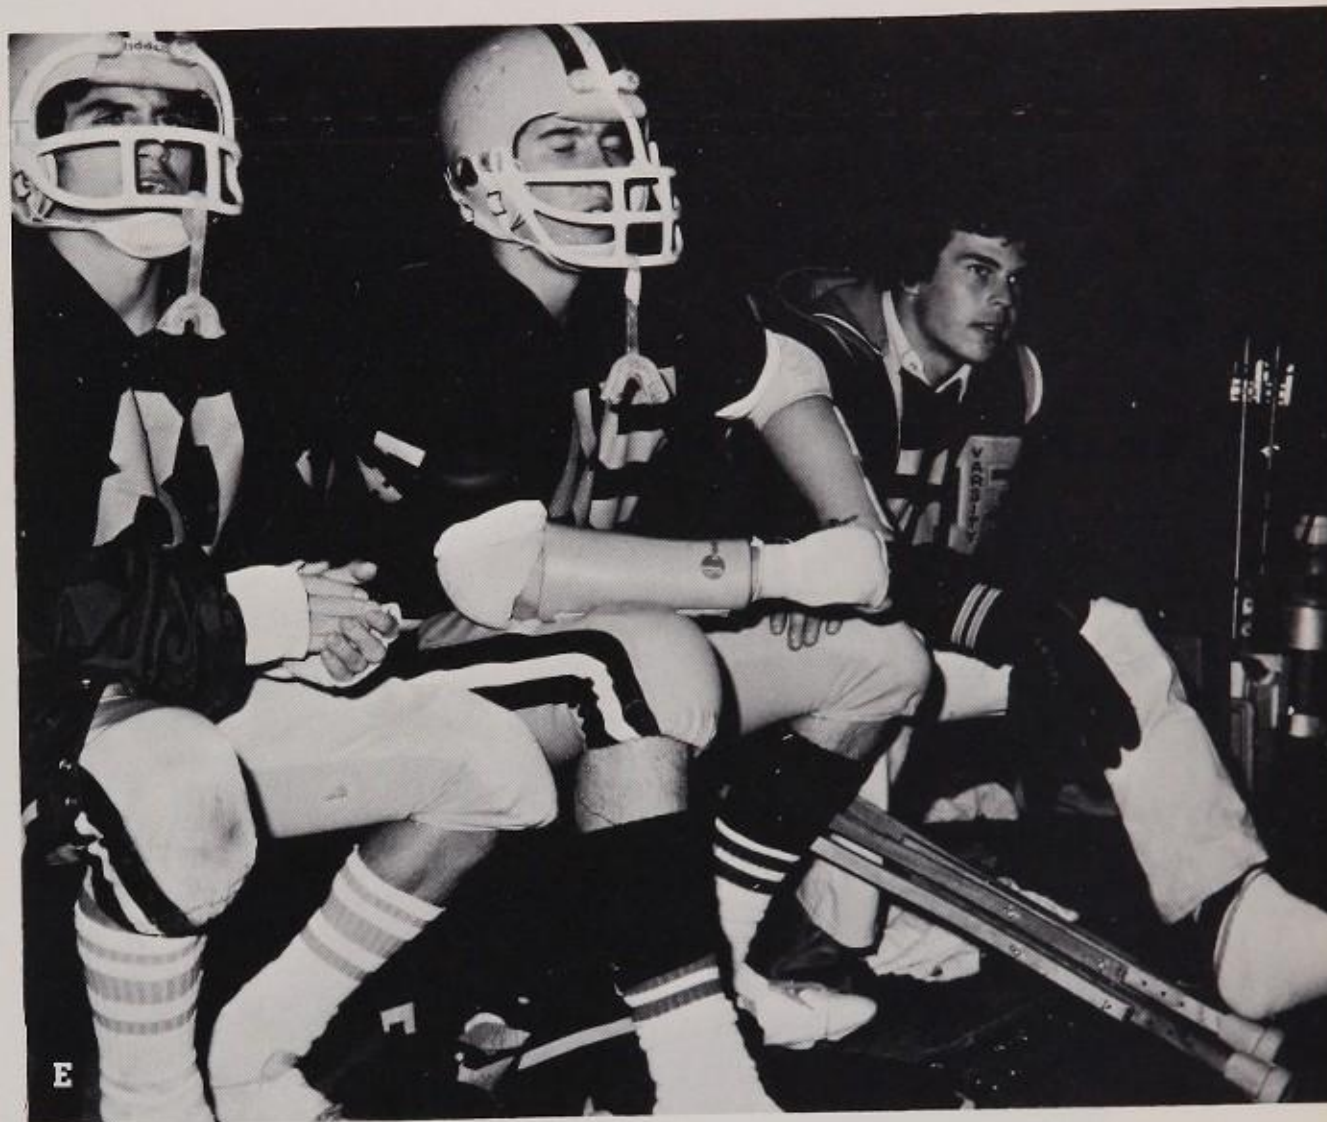

(A) Dan Sheehan avoids oncoming defenders as he rushes for a long gain. (B) Brett Milkie dives in a futile attempt to catch an errant pass. (C) Brett Milkie leaps high to snare a pass. (D) Joe Caito plows into the line to gain some tough yardage. (E) Injured Brad Lebovitz, along with Tony Bondra and Mike Mayer, view the action from the sideline. (F) Fine blocking by Andrew Dingenary and Scott Hanson gives Ken Kristan ample running room.

JV Football Victorious In '76

Coached by Mr. Frank Peters and Mr. George Herrick, the 1976 Junior Varsity Football Team compiled an impressive record of six wins, three losses, and one tie. Victories were scored over arch-rival Mayfield, 14 to 12, and Mentor, 23 to 22.

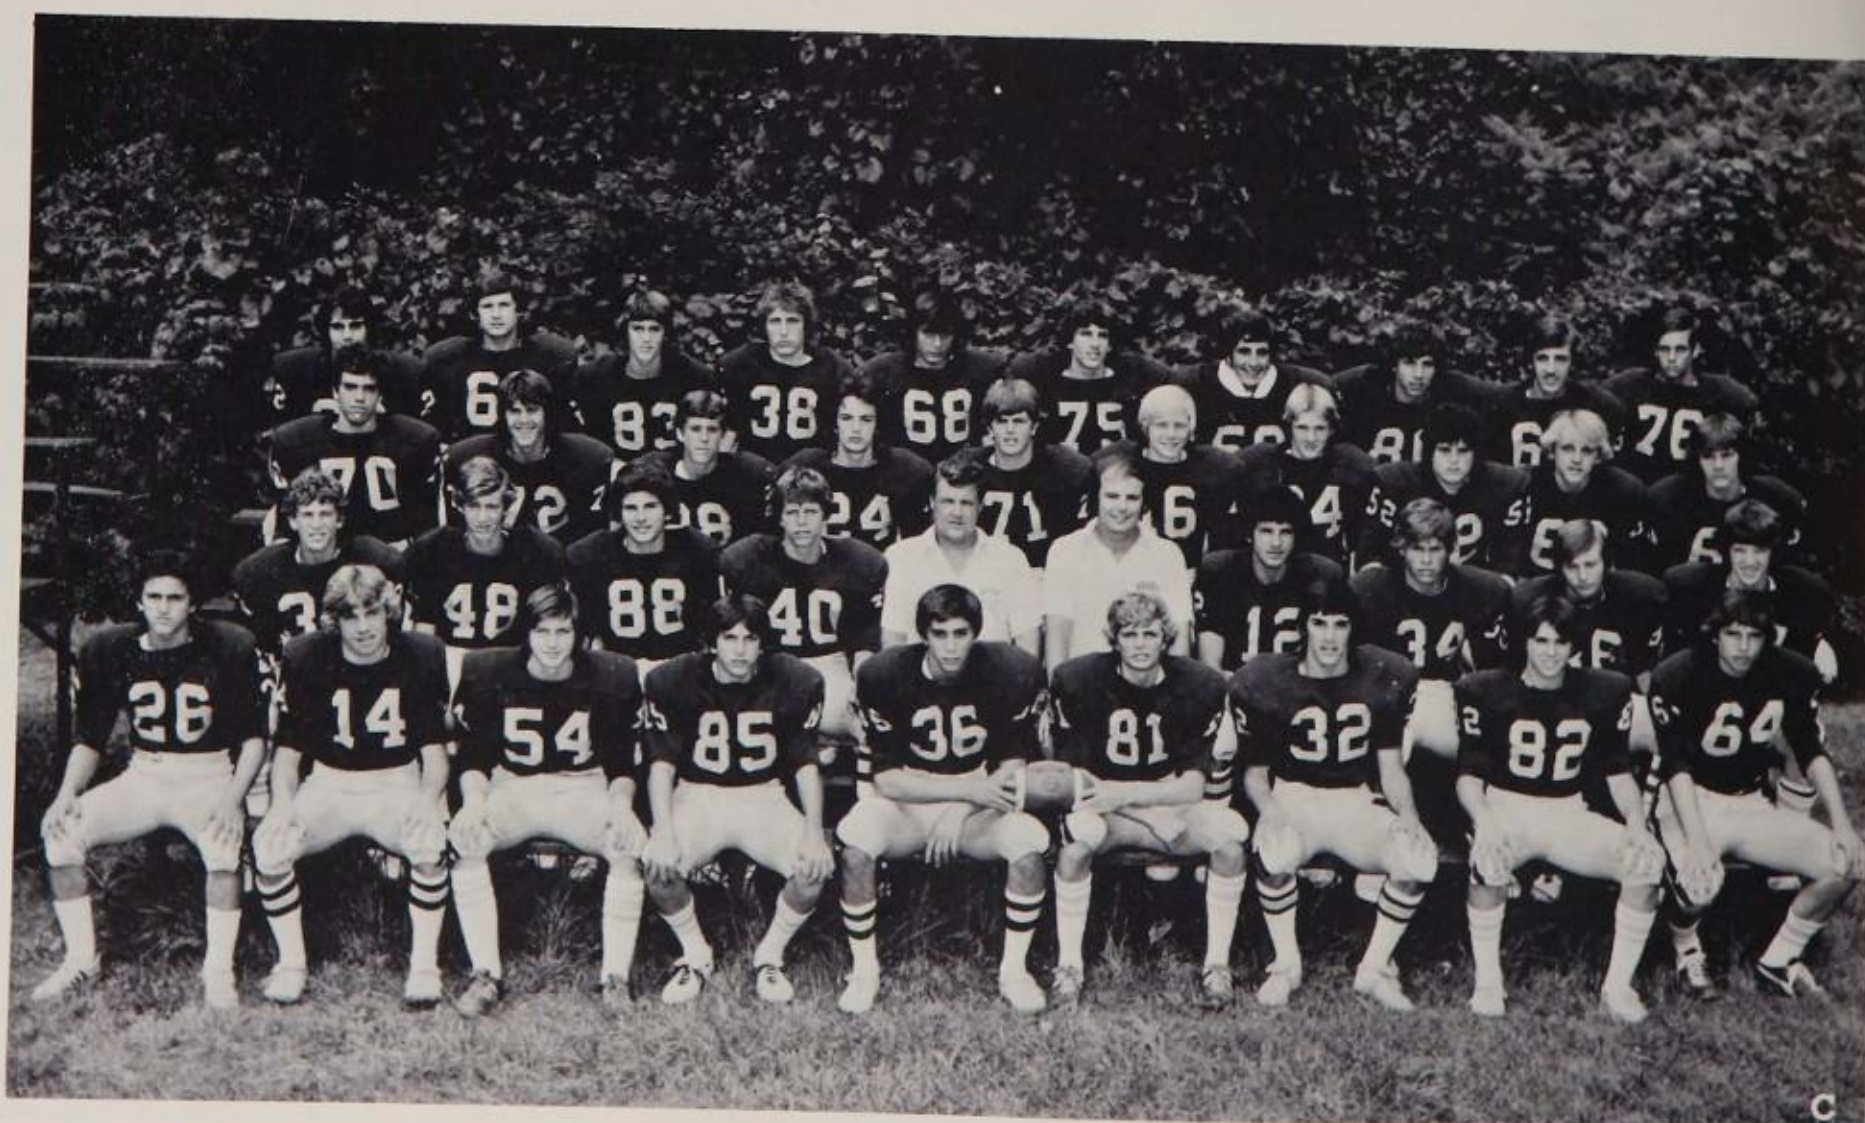

The offense, led by Quarterback Dave Blank and Fullback Bob Casarona, averaged slightly over fourteen points per game. The defense gave up ten points per game.

JV Soccer Scores Six Wins

The Junior Varsity Soccer Team, coached by Mr. Jeffrey Oliver, compiled a 6-5-3 record. Mark Pike supplied much of the team's offense and was named Outstanding Forward. Paul Crotty paced the defense and was named Outstanding Back. Goalie John Ely did a fine job of netminding throughout the season. The return of several Sophomores gave Coach Oliver reason to be optimistic for the 1977 season.

Sectional Champ Arcs Triumph, Rank Seventh In State

The 1976 Varsity Soccer Team, coached by Mr. Orin Marvin, was by far the best in Brush history. The team won the Greater Cleveland Conference Championship and the Sectional Championship, were the District Runners-Up, and ranked seventh in the State. They broke or tied twenty-seven team and individual records, including the most goals in one game and in one season, the most wins in one season, and the most team shots in one season. Tom Korb broke nine individual records, Jim Settecase broke two, and Tony Rosati broke one. Korb was voted the team's Most Valuable Player, Settecase was the Outstanding Forward, Mark DiFranco was the Most Improved, and John Cimaglia and Jack Stevenson were the Outstanding Backs. Eight players were honored by being named to the All-League team: Jim Settecase (also the G.C.C. Player of the Year), Tom Korb, Tony Rosati, John Cimaglia, Jack Stevenson, Mark DiFranco, Larry Hauser, and Brian Giallombardo. Jim Settecase and John Cimaglia were also named to the All-State team, an accomplishment shared by only three other Brush soccer players.

Golfers Drive To Successful Season

The 1976 Golf season was described as a "so-so year" by Coach Bob Kilfoyle. The squad was largely comprised of underclassmen, and the team's inexperience proved detrimental in late season matches. The golfers won five of their first six matches and finished with a respectable record of 7-7. The team placed ninth in the Sectional match and fifth in the Greater Cleveland Conference. For the 1977 season, Kilfoyle anticipated dramatic improvement from many of his starters, including Dave Baldwin, Barry Cohn, Howard Mintz, Greg Manning, and Sophomore Doug Hauenstein, who compiled a nine-hole average score of 39, lowest on the team. Second to Hauenstein was Captain Rick Grimaldi, who averaged 44 strokes per nine.

Girl Cagers Display Enthusiasm, Talent

Inexperience plagued the Girls' Basketball Team throughout the season as they compiled a disappointing 2-14 record. Despite being outclassed by larger, more experienced teams, the Brush girls displayed dedication and perseverance during practices and games. The highlight of the season was a thrilling overtime victory over Maple. Outstanding season performances were given by Patty Herder, who was voted Most Improved Player, and by Julie Schuld, who was Most Valuable Player. Julie Schuld also set a school record by scoring 26 points in one game.

JV Grapplers Gain Experience

The 1976 Junior Varsity Wrestling season was characterized by team enthusiasm and participation. The squad's 3-9 record was deceiving, for many boys were forced to wrestle out of their weight class. According to Coach James Huxel, his goals were to provide young grapplers with experience and to master various wrestling moves. Commendable season performances were given by Sandy Shapiro (105), Ron Gross (112), Joel Zaas (119), and Robert Haimes (167). Ron Gross was voted most valuable wrestler by his teammates and Robert Haimes was the most improved wrestler on the squad.

It was difficult for Coach Ralph Young to evaluate the success attained by his 1976 Wrestling Team. Inexperience and poor attitude contributed to a 4-8 record, the poorest in years. However, if one were to measure success on the basis of individual improvement, the Arcs achieved a great deal during the season. Seniors Tony Messina (98), Dan Coates (112), Larry Hauser (119), Scott Sabatino (126), Keith Bagdasarian (145), Bill Kent (175), and Tim Boylan (185), provided much of the impetus against formidable opponents. Juniors Tony Bondra (132), Frank Regalbuto (138), and Chris Koren (155) displayed their talents in commendable fashion. The season was climaxed by a smashing 42-15 rout of Mentor. The team fared well in district and sectional Tournaments, and Tony Messina emerged from the competition as the sole Brush representative at the state tournament in Columbus.

Swimmers Splash To Success

Coach Norman Schmidt, in his initial season as mentor of the Brush Swim Team, guided the Sharcs to a highly respectable 6-5 record for the 1977 campaign. Despite having no swimmer enter state competition, the season was one of accomplishment for the Sharcs, as almost all the swimmers set personal records. Junior Mitch Berman set the school record in the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:06.9.

Girl Gymnasts -- Dexterity And Grace

The 1976-1977 Girls' Gymnastics Team recorded a fine season with seven wins and three losses. This was a tremendous improvement over last year's two and eight record. Gymnastics at Brush grew by leaps and bounds with the aid of Coach Nancy Croft, for the team took second place at the Greater Cleveland Conference meet.

Seniors Lisa McCann, Ceil Vercellino, and Sue Murray added their experience and talent to the balance beam, floor exercise, vault, and uneven bars. Juniors Beth Christ, Nadine Tennant, Karen Smith, and Lynda Vanello added spirit, while first year competitors Jill Berry, Joy Witte, Donna Mekker, Chris Rasmussen, and Karen Shaw contributed enthusiasm to the team.

Volleyball Team

Posts 6-8 Mark

The 1976 Volleyball Team, coached by Miss Nancy Croft, showed rapid progress and team cohesiveness in posting a 6-8 record. Since the squad consisted of only four experienced players, most members were forced to learn the fundamentals of digging, serving, and spiking in game situations. The team won five of its last seven regular season matches and defeated powerful Wickliffe in sectional play. Individual excellence was displayed by Linda Mapleson, Donna Miyoshi, and Nancy Martin.

The presence of Keith Gisser and Edward Cohen marked the first time that boys participated on the team. Although denied the privilege of playing in league games, they prepared the girls for hard-hitting teams and added spirit to the squad.

STUDENT CONGRESS

MEETING TUESDAY 3:20

Student Congress

The Brush High Student Congress performed many valuable services for the school and the community. Meeting every Wednesday night, the Congress planned activities including Homecoming, Student Congress, under the leadership of President Mike Hoppe, Vice-President Laura Mancine, Corresponding Secretary Carol Rogge, Recording Secretary Ellen Armington, and Treasurer John Sullivan, parodied football and Homecoming with Powder Puff Football. During the Previous summer, Student Congress won first place for best booth at the Lyndhurst Home Day and sponsored a Summer Dance. Student Congress also drew up a new charter which enabled it to become a member of the central student government of the Greater Cleveland Conference.

Girls' Cabinet

Girl's Cabinet, composed of ten active members and five alternates from each class, kept busy with periodic meetings and many special events. The Sophomore members were voted in during November, joining the twenty Juniors and Seniors who were elected the previous May. Led by President Sally Polk, Judy Meyer, Terri Firestone, and Peggy Williams, Girl's Cabinet provided the girls with a social, service-related program.

Some of the activities included sponsoring a Thanksgiving family, having a representative from the Rape Crisis Center for a "Talk It Over" session, hosting an ice cream social, and organizing a Trivia Bowl.

Key Club -- Youth Serves Community

The Key Club, advised by Mr. Jeff Oliver, combined fun with service in their projects. Running the bookstore, ushering at home football games, and checking coats at basketball contests kept the members busy throughout the year. In the summer, the Key Club helped its sponsor, the Kiwanis Club, by working at the Ox Roast and manning a booth at Lyndhurst Home Day. The meetings, held three times monthly, were led by President Jack Stevenson, Vice-President Mark Morehart, Secretary Curt Khol, and Treasurer Jud DiVincenzo.

Booster Club Promotes Spirit

The Brush Booster Club was dedicated to promoting school spirit and keeping the student body aware of their athletic representatives. Under the direction of President Sandi DiFranco, Vice-President Margie Potapchuk, Secretary Maryellen Gibala, Treasurer Donna Miyoshi, Supply Chairman Leigh Owen, Activity Chairman Debbie McCreery, and advisors Mrs. Cindy Puin and Mrs. Karen Boyle, the Brush Boosters met every Tuesday. At these meetings, they made name tags and posters and planned dances, bake sales, flower sales, and other fund-raisers. Some club members, as sports-helpers, took statistics, flashed scores, and acted as announcers at the games.

Through F.T.A. And Kaleidoscope, Students Expand Their Interests

Future Teachers of America was an organization designed for students interested in pursuing a career in education. Meetings were held on alternating Wednesdays, and guest speakers explained about learning disabilities and the educable mentally retarded. Club members, required to work the equivalent of at least two study halls a week, helped teachers and office personnel.

The Kaleidoscope was the Brush literary magazine. Students were encouraged to submit original short stories, poems, and artwork to be printed and distributed throughout the school.

Aides Help Keep The School Running Smoothly

Student aides in the library, clinic, and office helped operations run smoother in these busy departments. The office aides ran errands for the administration, filed schedule cards, and organized absence lists. The clinic aides helped students who became ill and filled out passes and emergency cards for the head nurse, Mrs. Peg Ferraza. The library assistants sorted and delivered study hall passes, checked out books, and located magazines. While they helped with the school's clerical work, the aides also gained valuable experience.

Choral Music -- New Look, New Talent

Miss Barbara Artino, the new Vocal Music director, demonstrated her musical and organizational abilities in the Fall Pops, Winter, and Spring Concerts, the Brown and Gold Revue, and the State contests. By directing The Brush Concert, Chamber, and Sophomore Choirs, Miss Artino, with the help of Mr. James Roytz directing the Girls' Concert Choir, maintained the tradition of excellence that had always been associated with the Vocal Music Department.

The choirs performed at Greenview and Memorial Junior High Schools and the Sophomores, in addition, sang Christmas carols at the new Randall Park Mall. As a holiday fund-raiser, the choirs sold Wisconsin cheddar cheese in place of the traditional fruitcakes, but orders for the fruitcakes were accepted, also.

This year Brush hosted the Regional Orchestra Festival for the first time. Auditions were held for each section and the best players were chosen from forty-one schools in Ohio. Of 112 students, eleven were from Brush, composing ten percent of the group. The concert was a great success, and everyone felt that the hours of practice were worthwhile.

Along with the yearly Winter and Spring Concerts, Symphonic Wind Ensemble, Orchestra, and Concert Band also participated in the District Band Contest with hopes of going to the State Contest. Some of the groups performed in exchange concerts for other schools, and individuals had their talents rated in the solo-ensemble contest.

The Brush Arcs Marching Band (B.A.M.B.) experienced something new this summer when they began their season with band camp at Temple Hills near Belville, Ohio. Each day they spent a minimum of five grueling hours in the sun learning the fundamentals of marching. The band also memorized their first and most difficult routine during that week. This, coupled with sectionals and squad drills, made for many long hours of work. Despite the sunburn, sore feet, and aching muscles, B.A.M.B. members had much fun at camp, and its success was apparent from their performances at halftime during the ten-week football season.

This year the Brush Instrumental Music Department sold the football field. Korb Field went for five dollars a square yard in an effort to raise money for new Band uniforms. Each person who supported the Band in this manner received a deed and had his name engraved on a plaque representing the field. Of course, the field will still be used for football. Additional fundraisers included the department's annual Chocolate Drive, and a play-a-thon in which assorted groups of sponsored musicians played alternately for a period of twenty-four hours.

Cheerleaders Spark The Arcs

Attending cheerleading camps, practicing daily, preparing for pep assemblies, and cheering our teams to victories were among the many activities which kept the Brush cheerleaders busy throughout the entire summer and school year.

The hard practice paid off when both squads won awards at summer camp competitions. The varsity squad attended U.C.A. camp at Ohio State University and finished among the top eight squads of the 45 that competed. The J.V. squad took fourth place at U.S.C.A camp at Baldwin-Wallace College.

Thanks to the hard work of these girls and their coaches, Mrs. Rosemary Pasek and Mrs. Maria Burkhardt, the cheerleaders had an enjoyable and rewarding season.

Majorettes' Precision Drilling Adds Spirit To Sports Events

The Brush High Majorettes, under the direction of Miss Sheila Murphy, practiced long hours, both at summer camp and after school. Entertaining at pep assemblies and at game half-times, their hard work paid off when they were invited to perform at the Richfield Coliseum.

Arc-Lite Returns To Help Keep Students Informed

The Arc-Lite staff, advised by Mrs. Mary Stavish, worked diligently to publish a monthly school newspaper. To keep the students informed, they published articles on sports, organizations, and special events at Brush, such as plays, dances, and concerts.

Debaters Are Dedicated To The Proposition . . .

The proposition that debaters all across the country were dedicated to this year was: "Resolved: That a comprehensive program of penal reform should be adopted throughout the United States." Within the framework of this topic, debaters engaged in stimulating discussions of such topics as reform of prison conditions, gun control, capital punishment, and heroin and marijuana penalties. Those interested in individual events competed in Boys' or Girls' Extemporaneous Speaking, Prose and Poetry Reading, and Dramatic or Humorous Interpretation, among others.

Every Saturday morning the Debate and Speech Team, coached by Mrs. Susan Pasquale, travelled to an area high school to compete for trophies and ribbons. At these tournaments, judges scored debaters with points based on their persuasive powers and use of logical reasoning, and Individual Events persons with points determined by their speaking abilities and the quality of their performances. Accumulation of these points made debaters and I.E.'rs eligible for membership in the National Forensic League.

Debaters did much of their research during the summer. Last summer, Dan Kelly commuted to Akron University for its two week clinic, and President Pam Conger spent five weeks at Georgetown University on a scholarship provided by Judge Richard M. Markus.

"In The Dark Of The Theater We Remember

The performing Arts Club, under the guidance of Mrs. Estelle Keefe, presented a pair of diversified plays: Eugene O'Neill's Ah, Wilderness!, a romantic drama set at the turn of the century, and Neil Simon's The Odd Couple, a contemporary comedy. The vastly differing styles of these productions provided a challenge for the numerous actors and costume, prop, publicity, and make-up crew members involved. The sets and lighting, under the supervision of Mr. Larry Wilson, were the most elaborate with which the club has ever worked.

The club also presented a one-act comedy, Run, Robber, Run, without any adult assistance. The play was performed for the Bolton Elementary School "Family Night" Fund-raiser.

Performing Arts Breaks Attendance Record

The International Thespian Society, an honorary organization, commended those who had done meritorious work in theater arts. Membership constituted participation in a minimum of two productions and the accumulation of ten Thespian points.

The group presented a community program and participated in the Homeday parade. At the end of the year, a Thespian banquet was held to initiate new members and honor outstanding Thespians.

The officers of Thespian Troupe No. 583 were Ron Nedd, President; Brian Rabinowitz, Vice-President; Nancy Collings, Secretary; and Sue Cashane, Historian.

Ski Club Enjoys Cleveland's Worst Winter

Due to the fantastic winter conditions, Ski Club began skiing on December 14, its earliest start ever. Over one hundred fifty skiers hit the slopes of Alpine Valley on Tuesday and Brandywine on Thursday with varying degrees of success. Patience in the rental lines and the cozy bus conditions were prerequisites for fun in the snow. Lessons given by professional ski instructors at both areas led to a higher degree of skiing proficiency. Many students were able to progress from snowplow to the more advanced parallel moves in one year. Some experienced skiers used the whole period for free skiing. Mr. Al Zanetti and all Brush skiers can look forward to another "disastrous" winter.

Around The World With AFS

The American Field Service, a world-wide organization, provided a cultural exchange for thousands of students and families every year. For the first time in Brush's history, the student club, as well as the local adult chapter of A.F.S., hosted a foreign student. The W.P.'s (Winter Program) were Alison Gumbley from New Zealand and Ana Maria Castaneda from El Salvador. A.F.S. also befriended Anna Froberg from Sweden, who came to the United States on a Rotary scholarship. Brush students were encouraged to spend either a summer or a school year abroad. To raise money to make this learning experience possible, the club held a belt buckle sale in addition to the traditional mistletoe sale and after-finals dance. Mr. Al Zanetti and Mr. Dan Morocco were the group's advisors.

Silent Sports Club Means More Than Backpacking

The Silent Sports Club, also known as the Back Packers Club, was popular with students interested in a wide range of sports. Their activities included biking, hiking, backpacking, canoeing, horseback riding, and skiing. The advisors were Mr. Ron Yarian and Ms. Barbara Kresge.

Academic Excellence Achieved By Top 3%

Each year the Hi-Lite recognizes those seniors who have achieved academic excellence throughout their high school years. The students shown on these two pages are ranked in the top 3% of their class after seven semesters' grades. In addition to studying, these people have spent much of their time involved in other activities including athletics, Brown and Gold Revue, choir, band, orchestra, and yearbook.

Outstanding Achievement

This year Brush had four National Merit Semi-Finalists, who scored among the top 1% in the country on the PSAT/NMSQT, making them eligible for a National Merit Scholarship. Another seventeen Brush students scored in the top 2% and received Letters of Commendation.

Rewarded Nationally And Locally

Elaine Riemer and Sue Donohoe represented Brush at Buckeye Girl's State last summer and Dave Hadsell and Jack Stevenson were selected as delegates to Buckeye Boy's State. These programs familiarized students with the functions of a government by conducting mock elections and managing a fictional state for a week.

For the first time, the South Euclid-Lyndhurst Jaycees gave awards for outstanding high school achievement. Six winners of twenty-five dollar savings bonds have already been named, with four categories left. The winners are: Dan Sheehan (athletics), Mike Hoppe (student government), Chris Uveges (art), Sally Polk and Sandy DiFranco (school booster), and Ron Nedd (drama).

BUCKEYE GIRLS' STATE: Sue Donohoe, and Elaine Riemer. BUCKEYE BOYS' STATE: Jack Stevenson and David Hadsell. JAYCEE AWARD WINNERS: Chris Uveges, Mike Hoppe, Sally Polk, Sandy DiFranco, Ron Nedd, and Dan Sheehan.

N.H.S.

The National Honor Society is an organization that recognizes those seniors who have devoted time to both their studies and extra-curricular activities. Members are selected from the group of students who have a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or better. The faculty elects the members based on their scholarship, character, leadership, and service. The group meets monthly with its advisors, Mr. Theodore Bell and Miss Margaret Walker, to discuss its various functions. N.H.S. helped with the school's College Night. They also organized a bake sale, a tobogganing party, and a dance.

N.H.S. OFFICERS — Sue Donohoe (President), Neil Wertheimer (Vice-President), Pam Hegedus (Treasurer), and Debbie Kossman (Secretary).

National Honor Society
Award Winner:
Dan Sheehan

Having achieved excellence both in academics and athletics, Dan Sheehan has been named winner of the 1977 National Honor Society Award. Dan's fine academic work placed him in the top 2% of his class. An outstanding athlete, he played football, basketball, and baseball and earned eight varsity letters and one junior varsity letter.

In football he was a three year starter as quarterback and was All-League in both his junior and senior years. In the 1976 season Dan led the Greater Cleveland Conference in pass offense and total offense, compiling a record of 1146 yards. His high school football career ended with a special honor. He was named GCC Player of the Year by the Touchdown Club. In basketball Dan earned two varsity letters and one junior varsity letter. As a pitcher and first baseman for the Arcs Baseball Team, he earned three letters and was All-League in his junior year.

The NHS Award was established in 1959 by the Hi-Lite. Each member of the NHS is eligible for the award and a vote of the faculty determines the most outstanding senior. The SELTA Prize, a cash award, is presented as part of this honor by the South Euclid-Lyndhurst Teacher's Association.

Follow your dream
Wherever it leads;
Don't be distracted
By less worthy needs.

Be faithful, be loyal,
Then all your life through
The dream that you follow
Will keep coming true.

In Memoriam
Horace G. Ebersole

"No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main; if a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontory were, as well as if a manner of thy friend's or of thine own were; any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind; and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee."

John Donne
Meditation XVII

Coach Humpal Honored By State Hall Of Fame

During Coach Jim Humpal's first thirteen years at Brush, the baseball team had a total record of 245 wins and 35 losses. The Arcs had won two Lake Erie League championships, five sectional championships, four district trophies, and state runner-up recognition under his leadership. Five of his ball-players were all-state and four signed professional contracts. Due to his fine coaching record, Mr. Humpal was inducted into the Ohio Coaches Hall of Fame this year, one of only six area coaches to receive the honor.

Sincere thanks and commendation are to be extended to the Hi-Lite Business Staff, whose efforts would otherwise go relatively unrecognized, and without whom the publication of the yearbook would have been impossible.

Special thanks are due staff members who devoted considerable time to our summer advertising sales campaign: Anne Henry, Mary Beth Fetsko, Jay Weinshenker, Bob Firestone, Ellen Vegh, Julie Grube, Karen Makarski, Diane Klaus and Alan Biarsky.

In addition, Alison Fox is to be commended for handling the Hi-Lite's advertising almost single-handedly.

—Pamela Conger

Putting a yearbook together involves more time and effort on the part of more people than can be imagined. I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the people "behind the scenes" who were essential to making this book possible, especially Mr. J. Donald Leahy, Mr. Morrie Levine, and the people at Raimor Studios, Mr. Jim Davis, Mrs. Linda Schrager, and Pam Conger and the Business Staff. Their help was invaluable. The development of many ideas used in the book can be credited to the Summer Journalism Workshop at Oakland University. Of course, nothing could have been accomplished without the Editorial Staff and our advisor, Mr. Norman Rogozin. I'd personally like to thank the staff members and others who made this year as editor bearable and at times even fun.

Wrestling Copy ..Mr. Ralph Young

1440 copies of Volume 43 of the Hi-Lite were published by Interstate Book Manufacturers, Inc., Olathe, Kansas. The cover, made of buckram, was stamped in gold foil. The 264 pages were printed on 80 pound enamel paper. The body copy in 10 point Cairo Light and cut lines in 8 point Cairo Light were set by Superior Composition Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

Now, I don't know what to write so I'll just say that I hope we remain friends forever.
I have a very wonderful standing person. Take Care, God Bless,
Love ya, Rick
